PROFILE

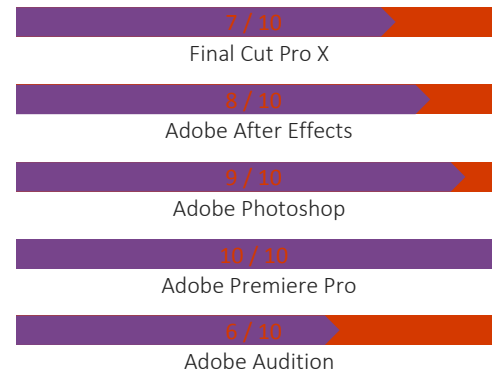

Currently, I am studying Media Production at De Montfort University with a career desire to continue to create professional film and commercial videos. I look forward to commencing this career through completing a placement and am eager to contribute to the team I work with during this year-long experience.

I am a versatile, efficient, motivated person who can deliver in and out of the workplace. Coupling my creative desires and high aspirations and standards allows me to consistently produce high-level work focusing in a variety of major media software's ranging from Adobe Premiere Pro and Final Cut Pro X. I have been employed to produce a variety of short films focused on promotion in retail and social media, with high-quality pieces translating into successful, innovative and entertaining pieces.
